Note: Variable products are sold by prospectus. Both the product prospectus and underlying fund prospectuses can be obtained from your investment professional or by writing to One American Square, Indianapolis, IN 46282, 1-800-249-6269. Before investing, carefully consider the fund's investment objectives, risks, charges and expenses. The product prospectus and underlying fund prospectus contain this and other important information. Read the prospectuses carefully before investing.

Note: Returns are historical and past performance does not guarantee future results. Current performance may be lower or higher than the performance quoted. The investment return and principal value of the investment accounts will fluctuate, so that a participant's units/shares when redeemed may be worth more or less than their original cost when redeemed.

Note: Annualized total return figures shown are net of the ordinary operating expenses for each fund, but may not reflect a deduction for any contract related charges and fees such as mortality & expense risk charges, administrative expenses, premium tax charges, maintenance fees or other expenses that might be incurred under a group variable annuity contract. If included in these total return figures, any such charges would lower the performance shown. For a complete description of the charges, expenses or fees that apply to your contract, please contact your Employer or Plan Administrator. For a more complete description of the performance calculation and other important information, write to One American Square, Indianapolis, IN 46282, 1-800-249-6269.

Bond funds have the same interest rate, inflation and credit risks that are associated with the underlying bonds owned by the fund.

Funds that invest in high-yield bonds are subject to greater credit risk and price fluctuations than funds that invest in investment grade bonds.

Funds investing in stocks of small, mid-sized, and emerging companies may have less liquidity than those investing in larger, established companies and may be subject to greater price volatility and risk than the overall stock market.

Investing in international markets involves risks not associated with investing solely in the U.S., such as currency fluctuation, potential political and diplomatic instability, liquidity risks, and differences in accounting, taxes, and regulations.

Funds that invest in a concentrated sector or focus on a relatively small number of securities may be subject to greater volatility than a more diversified investment.

Target Date Funds are designed for people who plan to retire and begin taking withdrawals during or near a specific year. These funds use a strategy that reallocates equity exposure to a higher percentage of fixed investments; the funds will shift assets from equities to fixed-income investments over time. As a result, the funds become more conservative over time as you approach retirement. It's important to remember that no strategy can assure a profit or prevent a loss in a declining market and the principal value of the Target Date Funds is not guaranteed at any time, including the target date. Target Date Funds are designed to provide diversification and asset allocation across several types of investments and asset classes, primarily by investing in underlying funds. Therefore, in addition to the expenses of the Target Date Funds, an investor is indirectly paying a proportionate share of the applicable fees and expenses of the underlying funds. The principal amounts invested in these funds are not guaranteed at any point and may lose value.

Emerging markets involve risks in addition to those generally associated with foreign securities, because political and economic structures in many emerging markets may be undergoing significant evolution and rapid development.

Investors cannot invest directly in any index.

Investments that focus on real estate investing are sensitive to economic and business cycles, changing demographic patterns and government actions.

Additional Notes

The use of asset allocation or diversification does not assure a profit or guarantee against a loss.

Group annuity contracts are issued by American United Life Insurance Company® (AUL) and registered variable annuity products are distributed by OneAmerica Securities, Inc., Member FINRA, SIPC, a Registered Investment Advisor, One American Square, Indianapolis, IN 46282, 1-877-285-3863. While a participant in an annuity contract may benefit from additional investment and annuity related benefits under the annuity contract, any tax deferral is provided by the plan and not the annuity contract.

Participants invest in AUL separate accounts, which in turn invest in underlying funds. Plan participants own units of an AUL separate account, not shares of any underlying fund.

If a participant invests in assets held with another company, recordkeeper or vendor, they will receive more than one statement detailing their investments. Examples of these types of assets include self-directed brokerage accounts, real estate, life insurance, or assets with another vendor.

Pension Protection Act (PPA) Specific Disclosures

The vested account balance shown is based on information currently available. Your actual vested account balance at the time of a distribution may differ based on information provided by your employer at that time.

If your vested account balance was not provided on this statement, you should contact your Plan Administrator.

To help achieve long-term retirement security, you should give careful consideration to the benefits of a well-balanced and diversified investment portfolio. Spreading your assets among different types of investments can help you achieve a favorable rate of return, while minimizing your overall risk of losing money. If you invest more than 20% of your retirement portfolio in any one company or industry, your savings may not be properly diversified. Although diversification is not a guarantee against loss, it is an effective strategy to help you manage investment risk.

In deciding how to invest your retirement savings, you should take into account all of your assets, including any retirement savings outside of the Plan. No single approach is right for everyone because, among other factors, individuals have different financial goals, different time horizons for meeting their goals, and different tolerances for risk.

It is also important to periodically review your investment portfolio, your investment objectives, and the investment options under the Plan to help verify that your retirement portfolio is on target to meet your retirement goals.

The internet website of the Department of Labor can provide you with useful information on individual investing and diversification. The internet address for the DOL is www.dol.gov/agencies/ebsa/laws-and-regulations/pension-protection-act/investing-and-diversification.

Please contact your Plan Administrator to determine if any Participant Direction Procedures have been established that may limit or restrict your right to direct investments.

Your plan may be an "integrated" plan, which means that your employer's contribution will be different for compensation that is above a predetermined amount stated in the plan. You should review the Summary Plan Description to see if the plan is integrated, and if so, what the predetermined amount is. Often, that amount is the "taxable wage base". The taxable wage base is the maximum amount of wages that are considered for Social Security purposes and is adjusted each calendar year. The taxable wage base for the current year may be found on www.ssa.gov.
